Summer Cleaning

Our custodians, Tim Martin, head custodian; David Parker and Tara Smith will soon be busy with summer cleaning at WES so that the school will be bright and shiny in August. Our custodians literally empty every room of desks, tables, computers, books and other materials. Often teachers call the school to ask, "Are you done with my room yet?" so that they can come in to get a head start on organizing their rooms, which will help them to get ready for a successful year. We want to thank our custodians for all of their work during the summer and throughout the year.

Memorial Books

Thanks to Ms. Sheila Golden, retired WES teacher, and Mrs. Deborah Hendrickson, media specialist, for making donations to purchase library books in memory of Mary Ann (Neely) Houser, a former Title I reading and math teacher at WES.

After School Fun, Earth Day, and the Stock Market Game

To celebrate Earth Day, fourth grade students in Mrs. Hughes's room read One Plastic Bag: Isatou Ceesay and the Recycling Women of the Gambia by Miranda Paul. ## Growing Our Own Food

Staff from the Evergreen Heritage Center, a farm for education, conservation and preservation, located in Mt. Savage, Maryland, recently presented an in-school Elementary Edibles gardening program for K-5 students, with the goal of increasing student interest in healthy eating as well as food & nutrition literacy.

This in-school program was developed in partnership with the Western Maryland Health System and focuses on human wellness, teaching children where food comes from, how it grows, and the importance of healthy eating.

Classrooms at WES experimented with growing a variety of plants and vegetables.

Shown are planters of lettuce which were grown on the windowsill of Mrs. Beth Chapman's room and the lettuce tasting party which was held after the crop was ready to eat!

A child is a person who is going to carry on what you have started.

He or she is going to sit where you are sitting, and when you are gone, attend to those things which you think are important. You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they are carried out depends on him or her. They will assume control of your cities, states, and nations. They are going to move in to take control of your churches, schools, universities and corporations. All your books are going to be judged, praised, or condemned by them. The fate of humanity is in their hands.
